Custom House, Liverpool.

March 12, 1787.

S I R,

I Am informed that the Society for the Encouragement of Arts, Manufactures and Commerce, have formerly granted premiums for the Surveys of Counties, and still continue to give marks of their approbation to such as are executed with precision and accuracy.

I have desired Mr FADEN to wait upon you with Proof Impressions of my Survey of the extensive and populous county of Lancaster; upon which I have been employed for a number of years, and flatter myself that it will meet with the approbation of the President and Members of your Society, to whom I beg permission mission to request you will be pleased to present it.

It has been executed wholly at my own expense, without any previous assistance from subscriptions, and with an attention that has been honoured with the approbation of many gentlemen of the first character in the County; to whose inspection it has already been submitted, and who have been pleased to attest such approbation by their signatures to the annexed Certificate.

Some favourable notice of it by the Society, would greatly tend to introduce it to more general knowledge in the Kingdom, and confer a lasting obligation upon

Sir,

Your obedient humble servant,

WILLIAM YATES.

Mr MORE.
